

1. Where were Peter and John going?
2. What did the lame man ask them for?
3. What was Peter able to do for him?
4. Why was what Peter did better than what he had asked for?
5. What does the man do when he's been healed?

1. Who have we seen do miracles like this before?
2. Peter says it wasn't really him who healed the man. Who does he say did it?
3. What does Peter tell the people watching about Jesus?
4. Why does he want them to know about Jesus?

1. How is Peter able to heal a man even though he isn't God?
2. What does the man have to do to be healed?
3. Why does Peter say that they killed Jesus?
4. Why do they need to know that Jesus died and came back to life?

Look through old magazines or catalogues and make a collage of work you might like to do when you're older. Make a sticker chart for jobs you do at home. Give yourself a sticker each time you finish a job.

Play happy families, or a child friendly monopoly game. Or write a list of jobs on strips of paper and put them in a hat for charades or Pictionary. Or dress up the dolls and send them off to work for the day.
